FIREMEN WIN BATTLE WITH HOTEL FIRE

National Annex Blaze Proves Stubborn Foe

One of the most spectacular and menacing fires in recent years broke out yesterday afternoon shortly after four o'clock in the wooden annex in the rear of the National Hotel.

Only the tremendous efforts of the entire fire department personell saved the main building from the spreading flames.

For over two hours fifty or more firemen labored in smoke, heat, and torrents of water to ferret out the seat of the flames and flood it with water.

The fire alarm was turned in by Fred Worth, proprietor of the hotel, and the department responded only a few seconds later. Five minutes after the fire was reported, smoke was belching from upper story windows and doors of both annex and main building.

STUBBORN FLAMES

The fire was one of the most stubborn the department has ever fought. Originating ,it is believed, in a defective chimney flue in the annex. It flared forth through windows and doors on the northern side of the annex, destroying a porch and practically gutting the interior of that section.

Grass Valley sent over three fire trucks and additional hose. The Empire mine sent a truck loaded with gas masks and oxygen tanks.

WITH AXE AND HOSE

With these reinforcements the firemen with axes cut their way through floors and walls to the space between the floor of the upper story and the ceiling of the lower floor, and flooded the burning mid-section with five streams of water at one time. The first truck arriving attached hose to the hydrant in front of the hotel and carried one line of hose to the rear of the building and another up over the balcony and through the second story to the annex burning in the rear.

George Neagle, veteran clerk of the hotel, went from door to door in the big hostelry, pounding and shouting to wake those who were asleep. Three that work at night and sleep during the day, were roused and rushed out to safety. A fourth, occupying room 54, could not be aroused immediately and in the meantime Neagle was overcome by smoke and fainted after reaching the balcony. "Number 54" was finally aroused by firemen and brought out.

VETERAN FAINTS

Joe O'Neill ,veteran fireman, was overcome by gas and smoke and lost consciousness. Dr. Ormiston Swaze was called and soon brought the unfortunate man back to consciousness. O'Neill was later removed to his home and at last accounts was doing well. Two or three other firemen, passed out for a few minutes, but were revived by their comrades as soon as they reached fresh air.

Firemen stood on the roof of burning porches, overhanging sheds and flimsy projections, unmindful of the peril of smoke and frail support, battling the fire with axe and hose. All gas masks contributed by the Empire mine were pressed into instant service.

The National hotel annex has been the scene of many fires in the last decade, but the last serious fire originated in the kitchen of the coffee shop and gutted that portion of the hotel in 1928.

The damage done the annex, will probably run between $5,000 and $6,000 and is covered in large part by insurance.

GRASS VALLEY PRAISED

The firemen, following the fire, were full of praise for the Grass Valley fire department which sent its three trucks, but recalled two of them when it was found they would not be needed. This neighborly service was much appreciated both by Nevada City fire department and citizens who witnessed the grim fight with the flames.

Under Chief Byron Landrigan and Chief Elect Lou Kopp, and assistant Chief E. J. N. Ott, the fire department went about its business with cool, orderly precision, with enough men present to fight the smoldering building from all sides and the roof and with enough equipment to make their work effective.

Veterans, such as R. L. P. Bigelow, who left a group of Army and National Forest officials, in the midst of business sessions. D. Goyne Dr. C. W. Chapman and other elder firemen gave the younger generation on the force stiff competition in the way of endurance and resourcefulness.

Along with its gas mask and oxygen tanks, the Empire mine sent its life saving crew.

The Grass Valley trucks were accompanied by Fire Chief Arthur Garrick of that city, and a big crew of fire fighters who rendered very valuable assistance to the Nevada City firemen.

Free Market For Gold Is Expected In Two Months

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6—Delegates to the American Mining Congress at Washington privately expect a free gold market in the United States within 60 days.

This information was transmitted yesterday to George W. Starr, president of the Mining Association of California, in a telegram from H W. Gould, representing the association at the convention.

FREE GOLD MEANS EXPORT

A free gold market would mean Federal permission to export any gold mined since President Roosevelt placed an embargo on the precious metal at the time of the national banking holiday.

This would provide a "safety valve" for the outet of a mounting but unmovable good surplus would ease the economic burden of the American mining industry, particularly in California and would enable small margin gold producers to continue operations over the highest hump of the depression.

While the mining congress is confident of the opening of the free market within two months, it is not expected that any action will be taken on the matter for about 30 days, while the Government is conducting an intensive drive on hoarding, Gould's wire stated.

CAMPAIGN WIN SEEN

"But one thing is very necessary," the wire said. "That is organization. If this is done and the campaign is put on right, it is almost a cinch to go over. Of course, the World Economic Conference in London is most important and what will eventually be done for gold will depend largely upon the stabilization of currency."

Starr estimated that the gold embargo is causing an economic loss of about $25,000 a month to the State.

EMPRESS CUTS STATION AT 1000 FOOT LEVEL

The Empress mine at Newton, west of Nevada City, is now cutting a station at the 1000 foot level and as soon as completed they will start drifting back to the main ledge, a distance of about 90 feet.

EQUALIZATION BOARD HAS BIG EVALUATION JOB

SACRAMENTO, July 6—(UP)—The fortunes of the polls and legislation adding power to his board, have elevated Fred Stewart, member of the board of equalization, from a position of only moderate importance to one of prominence in state government.

FRED STEWART
Member State Board of Equalization

Stewart and Ray Riley, state controller, were authors of the original Riley-Stewart tax revision plan which, in an amended form, was approved by voters at the June 27 special election.

This in itself has immeasurably added to Stewart's prestige; so much that he's being mentioned as a likely candidate for lieutenant governor at the August, 1934 primaries.

But in addition to that, the board of equalization, of which he is perhaps the most active member, has emerged from relative obscurity to be one of the most important units of state government.

WHOLE STATE IS FIELD

Approval of the tax revision plan dropped into the board's lap the tremendous responsibility of evaluating for taxation purposes between $1,300,000,000 and $1,800,000,000 in utility properties. The power is immense, for the board's decision is final. On its valuation will depend many millions in taxes.

Again, the tax revision limits county and city governments from increasing their government costs over five per cent annually. Local governmental bodies will be able to go to the board for permission to exceed this amount, if the legislature passes necessary acts empowering the board with this authority.

BEER TAX RESPONSIBILITY

The beer tax was passed. Administering and collection of this money was placed in the board's hands and resulted in increased scope and responsibility .

Finally, a sales tax and, possibly, also a personal income tax will be passed at the July session of the legislature. Collection and administering of these two taxes would also be in the hands of the board.

Thus, in the final shakedown, the election and legislation have pushed Stewart from the rear ranks of state officialdom into the front ranks. With him, also, are other members of the powerful board, John C. Corbet, San Francisco; H. G. Cattell, Pasadena and R. E. Collins, Redding.

SHOTGUN THREATENER LANDS IN COUNTY JAIL

Ernest Ferguson is in the county jail, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. On the evening of the Fourth around 7:30 o'clock, he is alleged to have threatened to shoot Mrs. Fred Beck and her children of Grass Valley, with a pistol and shotgun. He made the same threats against Bill Stafford of that city, who turned in a complaint. Traffic Officer Will Fouyer and Deputy Sheriff John Nettell responded to the call and found the man sitting on a porch with the shotgun across his knees. He was covered with two guns, submitted to arrest with docility, and was led away to jail. He had been drinking, according to the officers.

This is a true fishing story.

Clark Waite of Leiter's Garage and party of friends were fishing last Sunday at Milton, a lake high in the Sierras, with rugged boulder strewn shores, in the midst of the primeval forest. It is tough going to get in there, and imagine their surprise when they sighted a steam boat slowly coming aross the lake with two pillars of dense smoke rising from it. Waite and his friends viewed the spectacle with amazement. Slowly the mountain steamboat meandered across the lake, until finally it was close enough for a hail.

It turned out to be Sheriff G. Carter, acting as captain, with a merry crew and guests, aboard a large row boat. In bow and stern were smudge pots belching smoke to keep down the mosquitos while the party fished. The party had lots of bites—mosquito bites, despite the smoke, and caught a nice lot of fine fish.

FRED W. BRADLEY, FAMOUS MINING, ENGINEER, DEAD

ALTA, July 6—Frederick Worthen Bradley, 70, one of the nation's distinguished mining engineers, died at 6:47 A. M. today at his summer home here, where he had been ill for several weeks.

Bradley had long been identified with California, Nevada and Alaskan mining operations. He was president of the Alaska-Juneau and many other mines, including the Atolia Syndicate operating the Beebe and Alpine mines at Georgetown, El Dorado county. He was one time president of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

The William Lawrence Saunders gold medal for "outstanding achivement in mining" was presented to Bradley last year in New York. His was the directing genius of an organization that mined a mountain of low grade gold ore, worth $30,000,000 near Juneau, Alaska, at a profit, although much of the ore contained less than $1 of gold to the ton. It was for this achievement the Saunders medal was awarded.

The Alaska-Juneau capitalized for $15,000,000, under Bradley cut mining and milling costs to 59 cents a ton.

Bradley's career, however, is replete with many instances where he introuced scientific methods to cut production costs to a point where low grade ore could be mined and milled profitably. He started his meteoric rise at the old Spanish mine near Washington, Nevada county, where as tyro just out of college, he made a reputation for low operating costs.

dsicatdadiouachieve- stst ing

The deceased leaves a widow, Mrs. Mary Parks Bradley, and four sons, Frederick W. Bradley Jr., James Parks Bradley, Henry Sewell Bradley and John Davis Bradley, all of San Francisco ,except James P. Bradley who is reopening the Spanish mine.

Funeral services will be held at Quartz Lodge his summer home near Alta and burial will take place at 2 o'clock Saturday in the family plot in Pine Grove cemetery at the eastern city limits of Nevada City.

Holmes Funeral Home has charge of funeral arrangements.

FIND LOST COINS

EXETER, July 6—(UP)—Some thing new in mining was developed here when a group of unemployed men "paned" the dirt beneath razed buildings of the Terminus beach resort. They found $45 in coins, which apparently had been lost by patrons of the place years before.

H. Kuhfield of Alleghany spent the week end in Nevada City.

QUEEN LIL MILL ADDS FLOTATION

An important announcement and one inicative of the increased activity in the Nevada City mining area, is that plans are being made for the installation of a flotation plant at the Queen Lil mill of West Mines Corporation on the northwest outskirts of town.

The mill has handled a considerable quantity of custom ore in recent weeks and has been put into shape to care for preliminary production from the West Mines' Canada Hill mine, where unwatering is proceeding rapidly, and from the nearby Ragon mine of the Comstock Gold Point company, where preliminary work is also being rushed.

The Queen Lil is a ten-stamp mill which can easily be expanded to greater capacity, and the addition of the flotation plant is expected to be quickly accomplished.

VAN SLYKE TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER MONDAY

Oll Van Slyke will go to trial Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Superior Court on a charge of manslaughter. Van Slyke is accused of Killing Jack Thomas in a drunken brawl in a back room of the Coffee club of Commercial street, about 4 o'clock on the morning of June 15. William Cassettari, a young attorney of Grass Valley, has been appointed to defend Van Slyke.

MILK ORDINANCE FINDS FRIENDS AND FOES

A number of dairymen appeared before the board of supervisors yesterday to protest against the new ordinance which provides for milk and cream inspection and puts Nevada County in line with other counties which have practically adopted the state dairy sanitation laws. Other dairymen declared themselves in favor of the law. The board finally decided to give the new ordinance a thorough trial before amending. The chief objection raised against the law was the provision for taxing milk a small amount to pay for expense of inspection.

W. H. Griffith, secretary of the Nevada City Chamber, was authorized to collect a strictly mineral exhibit, and to make this Nevada County's display at the State Fair.

TWO MEN FIGHT DEADLY KNIFE DUEL FOR WOMAN

A stabbing affray ended the Fourth of July celebration in Grass Valley for Victor Gustropherson, Richard Purnell, and a woman, Patricia O'Neill. The duel, which was fought by the two men armed with long bladed pocket knives, occured about 8 o'clock in the evening in Gustropherson's room in the Valley Hotel. Gustropherson received savage cuts about the head and face, while Purnell was stabbed badly through one of his lungs. Purnell, after being taken to a hospital, stated that the O'Neill woman was his wife an accused Gustropherson of taking her to his room in the hotel. Both men were arrested by Sheriff George Carter and Deputy John Nettell. Purnell was taken to the County hospital in a precarious condition, and Gustropherson, swathed in bandages, is in the county jail. The O'Neill woman was cut about the hands and arms in the affair. She apparently had tried to stop the fight.

YOUTH JAILED ON HIT RUN CHARGE

William Leary, Grass Valley youth, is accused of striking down with his car, Ed Bevis 30 years old, a dish washer in Hills Flat Tuesday morning about 4 o'clock, is in the county jail. Witnesses of the hit-and-run accident, Arthur Mahl and E. Young of Sacramento, claim to have followed Leary to the Kilpatric parking lot. One of them notified Traffic Officer Will Fouyer, while the other watched the car. Leary was arrested. He had been drinking according to the officers. Glass from one of the Leary car smashed headlights was found at the scene of the accident.

Bevis was removed in an ambulance to the Jones Memorial hospital, where Dr. C. P. Jones reduced a severe compound fracture of his ankle and found a slight fracture of the skull. He is believed to have a fair chance of recovery.

MOTORIST BACKING CAR SMASHES GAS PUMP

An unusual accident occured on the Fourth when John Croninger of Woodland, backing his car nearer a gas pump at the Memorial Park service station in Grass Valley, backed into another pump accidently smashed it and broke the air connections with the result that gasoline was blown out, as from the nozzle of a monitor, over the adjacent street and buildings. Croninger promised to pay for the damage.

STYLE CHANGES IN NEWS

"For the first time in the experience of present-day American newspapermen, economic news has a greater attention-compelling voltage than sex.

"The old-style pre-bank holiday type of political gossip—intrigues, scalp-lifting expeditions among the professionals and office holders—ranks very low in popular demand.

"The all-absorbing, dominating subject of thought and conversation is money—the gold standard, foreign exchange silver remonetization, bank guaranty, deposit insurance, mortgage relief, stock exchange reform, Morgan investigation, when and what are we going to do to inflate—and what shall we do then?

"That's news. Five years ago it was high-brow economics; crack-brained erraticism; socialism, or stuff for the big quarterlies that are rarely read. But today it has chased Babe Ruth and Libby Holman off the front pages. It has put a whale of a lot of new words in the average citizen's vocabulary.

For better or for worse we are launched on our most exciting national adventure. A tremendous thing is going on; it's news and it's vitally different; it affects every man and woman. It's the story of a nation stumbling to its feet. It hits every person in a far more intimate and personal way than any national upheaval we have yet experienced, and just as the United Press service responded to the compelling interest of the World War, so must we react to this greater and more important event."

LINDSEY, July 6—(UP)—Chief of Police English found a real antique among his souvenirs when he cleaned out his desk here recently. The article was a Placard which read: "Hitch your horse or it will be taken to the livery stable."

Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis received a letter from their son, Wesley, and family saying they had arrived safely in Nome, Alaska. Mr. Davis has taken mining machinery with him to be used in gold bearing gravel of the streams.

The Street of By and By

"By the Street of By and By one arrives at the house of Never." Spanish Proberb.

The dawn was fair and I loitered there
In the magic springtime weather;
The world was new under skies of blue,
And the wild birds sang together.
With a care free heart I wandered on
Neath the glow of the morning sky,
Or paused to dream by a limpid stream
While the golden hours passed by.

Tall poppies sway where the soft winds play
I gathered them as I strayed;
And their radiant bloom shed a rare perfume
As of censers gently swayed.
Bright noontide came and I tarried still
On the road called By and By,
Or sought sweet rest neath a green hill's crest,
Where long, cool shadows lie.

The light grew dim near a valley's rim,
Gone was the summer weather;
But I followed still down the dismal hill—
I and the shadows together.
Thru withered grasses and faded flowers,
Where cold winds moan forever,
I came at last, my journey passed
To the house that men call Never.

There were shadows black o'er the dreary track
Of the street called By and By;
There were fitful gleams of broken dreams,
And fond hopes born to die;
There were pitiful wraiths of tasks undone,
Ambitions lost forever;
For the luring lie of By and By
Is the road that leads to Never.

—A MERRIAM CONNER.

WALDEMAR LINDGREN TO VISIT MOTHER LODE

Waldemar Lindgren, who retired from the faculty of the Massachusetts Institution of Technology at Boston recently, and author of many books and reports on mining conditions in the Mother Lode district, has accepted an invitation to visit Jas. D. Stewart, mining engineer of Auburn ,this summer.

It can be said that in mining communities, he has mapped, his judgment is considered very similar to our references to Webster's dictionary for authenticity. Practically all of the Nevada county engineers refer to the Lindgren reports and map in their descritions of properties.

No doubt Waldemar Lingren will visit Nevada City and county where he charted the world famous gold producing area.

There are many Nevada City people who remember Mr. Lingren when he mapped this district particularly the Washington district.

HI BAND OFF FOR WEEK AT APTOS

The majority of the Nevada City high school band will leave this morning for Aptos, where they will form a part of the Epworth League's annual encampment by the seaside. They will be accompanied by their director L. E. Sweeney and by the Rev. H. H. Buckner, pastor of the Methodist church. They will remain at Aptos for a week. Nevada City will be well represented at the big encampment of Epworth Leaguers.

Owing to the absence of these band members there will be no municipal concert here next Wednesday evening, but the concerts series will be resumed on the evening of July 19.

Under the leadership of Elza Kilroy enough money has been pledged to defray the expenses of the municipal weekly concert series throughout the summer. Efforts are now being made by Chief of Police Garfield Robson and other interested citizens to find a suitable site for a band stand.

The regular weekly concert of the band, that was held on the balcony of the National Hotel last Wednesday evening, was thoroughly enjoyed by a large number of people in parked cars on Broad street as well as many nearby residents.

Those to make the trip are: Mr. L. E. Sweeney, Carl Murchie, Ralph Watters, Ben Sweeney, Bob Tamblyn Bob Schiffner, Dick Bennetts, Ruth Tamblyn, Audrey Davis, Helen Arbogast, Margaret Pharris, Marian German, Gertrude Schreiber, Claris Holland, Berl Granholm, Mrs. Granholm, Mr. and Mrs. Dare, Rev. FIRE FIGHTING CREW READY AT EACH C. C. C. CAMP

The last contingents of men for the Civilian Conservation Corps Camps on the Tahoe National Forest arrived last week. All of the seven camps allotted to this forest are well under way. The Bloomfield, Bear Valley and Sattley camps are completed, and in addition to these, the Oak Ranch and Miller Ranch are fully manned and construction work on many of the projects is under full swing. The contingents arriving last week went to the Truckee and Baker Ranch camps.

A fire suppression crew of sixteen men is established at each camp, under a system of rotation so that intensive training in fire suppression methods may be given each man. Always held near camp, these crews are prepared for instant get - away with complete equipment, and though the 1933 fire season has hardly commenced, they have ably demonstrated thir usefulness in several instances already.

BANK OF AMERICA OPENS LOOMIS BRANCH

Formal opening of the new branch of the Bank of America at Loomis will take place Wednesay, July . The office will be operated under the direction of W. E. Fredine, assistant manager of the Auburn branch of the state-wide branch bank.

STATE TO ISSUE I. O. U. NOTES IN DEBT PAYMENT

SACRAMENTO, July 6—(UP)—The time is rapidly approaching when the state must issue its I. O. U.s—registered warrants—Director of Finance Rolland Vandegrift has informed Governor Rolph.

Unless the legislature at its July session, enacts sufficient taxes to wipe out existing and anticipated general fund deficits estimated at $43,000,000 ,the registered warrant era will begin October 1. The $43,000,000 figure does not include, of course, the $76,000,000 that must also be raised by the state to defray the counties fixed school charges, as provided in proposition number 1 on the special election ballot.

The state is now operating on borrowed money. Four millions was transferred from special funds to the general fund—a loan—in May. Six millions more must be borrowed for July August and September.

"Aproximately $10,000,000 will be the maximum amount that can be 'borrowed' from special funds without hampering the normal activities of the agencies supported by such funds," the finance director said.

"Apportionments to public schools will deplete entirely the cash resources of the general fund so that, unless new tax measures are enacted, it will be necessary to commence registering warrants against the general fund in the latter part of September."

Vandegrift said he hoped it would be unnecessary for state employes and others to accept a discount in cashing their warrants. He pointed out that a new law has been enacted whereby state registered warrants carry five per cent interest. That, he seemed to think, was a reasonable guarantee against discounts.

"If any state employee is so fortunate to hold his warrants until money is available," he pointed out, "it will be possible for him to collect the face amount of his warrants plus interest at the rate of five per cent from the time they are registered."

The finance director hopes to legislature will take proper steps to avert registering warrants. This can only be accomplished by passing drastic tax measur bringing in additional revenue.

MRS. WYLLIE VISITS SISTER

Mrs. Frank Wyllie of Oakland spent a few days in Nevada City last week visiting her sister, Miss Mamie Fenton. She has now gone to Alleghany where her husband and son are building some houses in the business district of that town that were destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Nellie Veale has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Carl Ivey and family at Chico.

PRODUCTION NEAR AT YELLOW JACKET MINE

ALLEGHANY, July 6—The Yellow Jacket Consolidated Gold Mines, Ltd., is rapidly approaching production from both the Yellow Jacket and Osceola mines at Alleghany and from the New York mine at Greenville, Plumas county. At the New York ,ore is being stoped and trammed to the mill bins from the tunnels and milling will be started as soon as the bins are full. The ore is coming from the No. 1 oreshoot and the other, previously exposed on the level 300 feet above, is being crosscut for at the mill tunnel level. On the Yellow Jacket and Osceola, which adjoins the Sixteen-to-One, the new plant is in operation. Sinking is being continued on the vein to connect with the main Yellow Jacket tunnel at a further depth of 100 feet. There is a 10-stamp mill driven by electricity on the property —in fact both groups are fully equipped. Headquarters are at 525 Security Building, Los Angeles, C. E. Trezona is president.

TWO GRAVEL MINES LACKING WATER, CLOSE

The Depot Hill gravel mine, in Oak Valley and Indian Hill gravel property near Camptonville closed down early last week due to the shortage of water.

Both properties have been piping for about three months. Small crews at each property were laid off.

ROLPH ORDERS POEM TO MARK GOVERNOR'S VISIT

SACRAMENTO, July 6—(UP)—For the first time in the history of the state of California's poet laureate is going to be put to work.

The title "poet laureate" usually has been honorary one only, permitting the holder to write only when he felt in the mood.

This time, however, Governor J. Rolph has ordered John Steven McGroarty of Los Angeles, California's official poet, to write one first-class poem of welcome to be used to greet visiting governors when they arrive here July 23 to attend the annual governors' conference.

STATE TO GET 115 MILLION IN FEDERAL FUNDS

By MELVIN LORD

SACRAMENTO, July 6—(UP)—California is to receive a substantial share of the federal funds made available under President Roosevelt's national recovery act.

LORD

According to notice received here, this share will amount to approximately $100,000,000 for public works in addition to the $15,898,515 allocated for construction of highways under the federal program.

As the first step in getting the program under way Governor Rolph has recommended the appointment of Timothy Reardon, San Francisco, as state administrator of the plan.

Another side of the national picture in its direct relation to state governmental activities is not so cheerful. As a result of reduction ordered by the president, the important federal-state market news service has been seriously crippled entirely eliminated at some points.

The service was entirely eliminated June 30. The tentative schedule called for reorganization of the setup on July 5. Under the proposed plan all market news services will be discontinued in Los Angeles, and only the livestock report will be maintained in San Francisco.

It is possible however, that reports of eastern markets will be available to field stations in the concentrated produce areas centering around Brawley, Salinas, Santa Maria, Sacramento and Fresno.

Other reports received by the state department of agriculture also indicated that rodent and predatory animal control work as financed by the federal government will be approximately 38 per cent. While this may be good news to the squirrels, coyotes and such it will put a tremendous burden on state forces.

CHARITY NEED IN STATE GROWING

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SACRAMENTO, July 6—(UP)—Counties and the state are today faced with a grave and compelling problem. The depression has markedly increased the number of persons depending on charity for existence. It has likewise swelled the enrollment in various correctional institutions.

MALARKEY

Concurrently with this increase, reports indicated, there has been a decided decrease in available funds for the care and maintenance of such unfortunates.

Nevada county expended $53,794 last year on charities and corrections. Need for such expenditures, it was reported, has increased throughout the state this year; but the demand cannot and will not be met because of depleted revenue.

BUDGET CUT TO 144,000

Mrs. Rheba Crawford Splivalo, director of the department of social welfare, sympathizes with counties' charity problems because she has a big one of her own. The social welfare department budget was cut from $352,000—the governor's recommendation—to $144,000 .

"Number of needy aged, blind and children dependent upon state funds continues to increase," Mrs. Splivalo said. "On May 31, 1933, California had 31,026 persons receiving state aid, an increase of 278 cases during May.

"The problem of administration of the state's established and humanitarian aid programs becomes more difficult because of the staff reduction made necessary by the new budget.

APPEALS VARIED

"Nevertheless, applications continue to come to the department—each application requiring individual attention and investigation. Each case represents a human problem and each case varies as human beings vary, so that individual attention must be given to each one.

A strong drive will be made on the legislature at its July session to raise more money for the department. Mrs. Splivalo—heartily disliked by a number of legislative leaders—has even offered the incentive of her resignation if the lawmakers will give to the department the funds she feels are necessary. Even Rolland Vandegrift, finance director, another enemy of the evangelistic director, is ready to go to the bat for her in the quest for additional funds.

The fight for additional social welfare department funds involving as it does, interesting and conflicting personalities, promises to be one of the issues of the July session of the legislature.

ROLPH PRESTIGE IS HARD HIT BY ELECTION

SACRAMENTO, July 6—(UP)—Prestige of the Rolph administration was badly shaken by the special election. Outcome of three issues—parimutuel racing, gas tax diversion and tax revision—demonstrated the state is in no mood to follow the governor and his cabinet.

The governor's famous "home against the stable" veto of the legislature's pari-mutuel horse racing bill was repudiated. The electorate overwhelmingly approved precisely what the vetoed bill provided.

Gas tax diversion has been a cornerstone of all administration budget balancing solutions. By an overwhelming majority the voters instructed legislators to keep their hands off the gas tax.

Finally, the administration disapproved the Riley tax revision plan. But the plan, nevertheless, went over by a large majority .

WENATCHEE, Wash.,—L. E. Kelly, 25, and Earsel Williams, 16, idn't know it at the time but they hitch-hiked themselves right into jail. They bummed a ride with twe deputy sheriffs who were looking forthem on a charge of stealing tools.

TURLOCK, Cal.,—Wild western pursuits proved too wild for Louis Magnaiz 38, of Delhi, when he staged a one-man rodeo to please his small children. Jumping astride his pet yearling, Mr. Magnais circled a corral and was thrown. His arms was broken.

Jessie Ismert Thompson of San Francisco is visiting at the home of Mrs. Mary Guenther. He is a former Nevada City resident. His parents were pioneers.

Carpenter Jones is taking down the old Rapp house on Sacramento street. It was slowly pulling away from the cement wall and if not taken down it would soon have fallen into Deer Creek.

WENATCHEE, Wash.,—Perfume is being used effectively here in a preparation which kills coddling moths. Phillip R. Linville reports catching 8000 moths in 700 traps, baited partly with perfume.

American Heroines

Sacagawea

IN THE journal of their famous expedition across the great Northwest to the Pacific, Lewis and Clark between them manage to spell the name Sacagawea in no less than eight different ways. But, however they spell it, they use it only to express admiration for its owner, the Shoshone Indian girl who played so heroic a part in their "magnificent adventure."

Sacagawea, or Bird Woman, was but sixteen when she became a member of the Lewis and Clark expedition. Five years before, during a Blackfoot raid in Montana, she had been captured and carried eastward into the Dakotas. Here she had been sold to the French-Canadian voyageur Toussaint Charbonneau, who later made her one of his wives. When Lewis and Clark engaged Charbonneau as interpreter, it was arranged that his wife, because of her knowledge of the Shoshone language and country, should go along.

The first mention of Sacagawea in the journal of the expedition records the birth of her son, Baptiste, which took place in February of 1805, under the administration of two rings of the rattle of a rattlesnake, "broken into small pieces with the fingers and added to a small quantity of water!"

The Indian mother's part in the success of the expedition was a real one. Charbonneau turned out to be a poor sort after all. Captain Clark notes: "I checked our interpreter for striking his woman at their dinner." Once, when several of the party were caught in a ravine during a cloudburst and almost washed away, Charbonneau saved his own skin, leaving the rescue of his wife and child to Clark. And again, being the "most timid water man in the world," he almost capsized the piroque during a squall, and but for his wife, who fished them from the river before carried away, the party's most valuable records would have been lost.

It was Sacagawea who guided the expedition finally to the Three Forks of the Missouri, the land of her childhood, and turning aside the animosity of the Shoshoni, which might have proved fatal to its plans, secured instead their aid in crossing the mountains. On the return trip Sacagawea once more turned guide, leading the party through Bozeman pass. Once back in the Blackfoot villages of Missouri, Lewis and Clark left Charbonneau and Sacagawea behind, but not without a parting testimonial in the journal to one who had been "particularly useful."

CHILD IN POPPY FLOAT WINS PARADE PLAUDITS

Ann Patricia Foley, little four-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Foley, judging by the applause showered upon her and the float in which she "floated" with the parade on the Fourth of July in Grass Valley, won the hearts of thousands of spectators.

The float, sponsored by Hydraulic Parlor of the Native Sons of Nevada City, was a beautiful creation covered with golden poppies in the center of which stood the winsome little girl. The float was drawn by four stalwarts of the Native Sons. It was one of ten floats contributed by Nevada City to the big parade, and this section was headed by the Nevada City high school band in radiant uniforms of purple, gold and white. The band was sponsored and its expenses were paid by the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce.

Nevada City turned out hundreds strong to share with Grass Valley in the big celebration. It was estimated that 10,000 people from near and far witnessed the colorful procession and attended the various programs and ball games later in the afternoon and evening.

DREDGER MAY BE USED TO WORK SCOTT'S FLAT

There is a large area of the ancient gravel channel exposed above the dam and early day mines made good profits when they piped away the hills and cut down banks of gold bearing gravel. It is this same channel that has produced much gold in the North Bloomfield district and You Bet, Red Dog and Dutch Flat to the south east.

If these test pits prove profitable to work with machinery a dredger will be used to mine the ground. This method has been employed in the Sacramento valley and the edge of the foothills but will be watched with interest locally as it will be new to the mountain areas.

Mr. Cunningham is in charge of operations.

WATER AT RELIEF HILL GRAVEL MINE RUNS LOW

Water is very low at the Relief Hill gravel mine and at present a crew of seven men are making a cleanup after a good season's run. About 10,000 yards of gravel was worked besides many yards of earth and boulders that covered the old channel.

The gravel is being shaped up for a longer season of piping and a larger cleanup next year.

San Francisco capital is being used to operate this gravel property that is situated on one of the richest old gold bearing channels in this section.

RECORDER HANGS UP BIG RECORD IN JUNE

County Recorder Sam Clark reports that June, just concluded, was probably the biggest month of recordings his office has ever experienced. Fees collected for the month totaled $488.85 and the total number of documents filed amounted to 452. Of these 306 related to mining. Of the mining documents, 186 were notices of intention to hold mining claims, filed under the act of Congress which permitted this procedure and waived assessment work on mining claims for another year.

IDAHO-MARYLAND DIVIDEND

The Idaho-Maryland Mines, will pay a dividend of 2 cents a share about July 15. These dividends are paid quarterly. Those holding shares in this propefty are confident of a steady return on their investment for some years.

PILGRIMAGE TO HILLTOP CROSS BY STUDENTS

CAMPTONVILLE, July 3.—The students of the Camptonville branch of the Marysville Union high school held their annual pilgrimage to the large white cross on the top of Pendolas Hill Thursday. Various games were played in the woods, under the direction of Miss Lola Chatfield and Mrs. Olive Groves. Following the games, a brief ceremony was had, Mrs. Kate Hope Livingston, local high school teacher, introduced Miss Lesta H. Joubert, a former student, and a student at the San Jose State Teachers College, and Miss Joubert gave a very interesting talk to the students. Following this the students repeated the motto of the cross in unison "I wish to be of service to the world," and deposited an evergreen with their names beneath the lead plate which is buried at the foot of the cross.

After the ceremonies, a delightful lunch was partaken of and much enjoyed by the young people. The following persons were present: Lela Hannum, Edna Moral, W. Grove, Frank Pendola, William Pendola, C. Wilson, Woodrow Wilson, James L. Joubert ,Lesta H. Joubert, Minot Riddell, Vernon Klenzendorf, Dan Jaynes, Warren Jaynes, James Halkyard, Merle Horwege, Betty Nordyke Bob Nordyke, John Williams, Ethel Humphrey, Dorothea Mark, Lola Chatfield ,Mrs. Olive Groves, Mrs. Kate Hope Livingston, Florence Helman.

SIM IS ACQUITTED OF LABOR LAW VIOLATION

Walter N. Sim ,tried yesterday in the justice court of Judge W. L. Mobley, on two carges of violating the state labor laws, was acquitted on the first count, and the jury disagreed on the second. the complainant in the case was Thomas Liddicott, who testified he had worked for the defendant in a mine and had not been paid. The first count was that Sim had not paid wages every two weeks as required by law, and the second that he had not posted notice of fortnightly pay days as requird by law.

Attorney E. H Armstrong defended Sim, while Deputy District Attorney Robert Tharp represented the people. The jury consisted of W. B. Celio, foreman, Mrs. Esther Perry R. J. Nickless, John S. King, Nancy James, Mrs. Clara E. Phillips, F. E. Pierce, Mrs. Zelma Gates, Elsie M. Gildersleeve, and George M. Dent, Lewis W. Davidson, Mrs. N. Carey.

ANOTHER STRIKE IN ORIENTAL GOLD STAR

The Oriental Gold Star Mines at Alleghany reports a strike of high grade ore in the west drift from a 4,000 foot cross-cut tunnel that was driven to the main ledge. The strike is really in a raise started from the 80 foot point in the drift and which had gone up only a few feet when it was encountered.

The objective of the raise is the old workings about 800 feet above. The ore chute is eight feet wide.

W. H. Hooten an Bert C. Austin of San Francisco are both interested in the company and L. L. Farnham, formerly with the Perez company of Los Angeles, is the engineer.

CHICO, July *—(UP)—A little dog that originally belonged to an Oroville brakeman has been riding the trains for eight months. He changes cars at frequent intervals and apparently has no destination in view. Trainmen see that he doesn't go hungry.

STEAM SHOVEL BOUGHT BY REMINGTON HILL

The Remington Hill Placers, Inc., east of Nevada City has shipped its fifth bar of gold since production began on May 1st. of this year.

Development of this property has been under way for nearly two years. Mr. Crampton employed different methods in reopening the property and was successful in striking paying gravel.

New equipment enroute to the mine consists of a steam shovel, tractor, compressor and incidental equipment. New flumes of steel will be built within the next 60 days.

The property is said to have over two million yards of gravel averaging better than 20 cents a yard.

F. D. Boyce is president and F. A. Crampton, is engineer and seretary.

DEVELOPMENT PAYS WAY IN WEST POINT

E. R. Hamilton of Grass Valley and son, Jerry, are pushing the development of the West Point mine and making fair expenses by hauling some of the ore to the Queen Lil custom mill at the western edge of Nevada City.

They are working in a 30 foot winze sunk from the 750 foot tunnel and have a 30 inch ledge of extensive mineralization that gives indications of persistence.

The work is somewhat limited as yet due to the lack of proper equipment .

BERKELEY MINE AT ALLEGHANY FINDS ORE

Harry G. Mack, president and principal stockholder of the Berkeley Mines Company, which adjoins the Sixteen-to-One mine at Alleghany, passed through Nevada City this morning enroute to his home in Berkeley. He reports that the main drift is in 1600 feet and that four cross cuts have been made, cutting ledges that apparently show high values. The cross cuts are all in ledge matter. Six miners are steadily employed in this work. Samples of ore displayed by Mack are heavily mineralized and some of them reveal free gold.

C. T. EASTMAN OPENING UP SOUTH STAR MINE

The South Star mining property near Grass Valley is being opened by C. T. Eastman of San Francisco, as the South Star Mining Company.

R. J. Polk is superintendent.

The South Star was successfully operated years ago, the ore coming from a large medium grade ledge.

RED BLUFF, July 6—(UP)—F. Grimm took his car to a garage to have a puncture fixed. The mechanic found enough gold in the tread of the tire to pay for the repair work.

Mrs. Beth Wolf to Sing Over KFRC

Mrs. Beth Wolf is to sing July 8 on the air from 12 o'clock to 1:00 over KFRC, San Francisco, in a series of five vocal numbers.

Mrs. Wolf, before becoming a resident of Grass Valley, studied vocal under Ann Sawyer and Bresca in San Francisco. She will be accompanied on Saturday by Marshall Giselman, who designed the pipe organ in the Palace of the Legion of Honor, San Francisco.

SUPERVISORS TO APPOINT RELIEF AID COMMITTEE

SACRAMENTO, July 6—(UP)—An emergency relief committee must be appointed by the board of supervisors in Nevada county and other counties before they can be in position to apply for its share of state unemployment relief funds made available by the electorate's approval of the $20,000,000 bond issue at the June 27 special election.

This decision was reached by the State Emergency Relief commission shortly after the $20,000,000 unemployment relief bond issue was approved.

COMMITTEE REQUIREMENNTS

The county committee will consist of not less than three and not more than nine members. It must be nonpartisan, non-sectarian, non-salaried and composed of members who are familiar with unemployment conditions in their own locality.

The committee's duties involve considerable responsibility. They include supervision of "the administration of all public relief funds made available by the county, state and federal governments for unemployment relief, in order to insure adequate standards of direct relief and work relief."

Superceding the various county committees, in authority, will be R. C. Branion, state emergency relief administrator.

Branion anticipates the $20,000,000, supplemented by federal, city, county and private grants will put California "over the top" in its unemployment relief drive for the next two years.

HALF BILLION FOR RELIEF

The administrator explained the Federal Emergency Relief act of 1933 has made available $500,000,000 for states. This money will be released on a "self-help" basis. Out of every relief dollar expended in California, the state and its lesser sub-divisions must raise 66 and two-thirds cents; the federal government will raise the remaining 33 and one-third cents. Thus approval of the $20,000,000 bond issue assured the state of approximately $6,662,000 in federal monies during the next two years.

The state will loan the $20,000,000 to various counties on liberal terms. A ten-year repayment plan is provided. If any county is remiss in its repayment installment, the state may step in and appropriate that county's gas tax allocation until the obligation is fulfilled.

MURCHIE MINE MILLS ABOUT 200 TONS DAILY

The Murchie mine, east of Nevada City, is milling about 200 tons of ore daily that averages $12, to $15, a ton. As is true in most cases in this district ore values at the Murchie are improving with depth. Within a short time the Newmont company, who own the property, will sink the shaft to new levels on ledges that show remarkable strength and persistence. Two hundred and fifteen men are employed.

LUMBER TALKS

WORK TO DO

When the Fourth of July had passed by us,
With all its excitement and noise,
I took stock with some apprehension
Of my dear little girls and my boys;
Now Jerry had singed a brown finger,
And Nellie had lost half her curls,
There were numerous cuts and abrasions,
But never a growl from the churls.
A barn had been jarred in the suburbs,
A house had caught fire in the town,
But the firemen had flown to the rescue,
It hadn't a chance to burn down;
O well, 'twas a fine celebration
Of which we are all justly proud;
So what are a few minor scratches?
Why mention the matter aloud.
Twin cities put on a fine party
That was second to none, I declare;
With flags and spectacular fireworks,
And bombs bursting wildly in air;
All eyes are now focused upon us,
So now we will work with a will,
To build up our own splendid county,
And make her more note worthy still.
